WOMAN MAY DIE FOLLOWING ALLEGED ASSAULT BY HUSBAND

Harry Jackson, 23, Colored, Held On Charge of Assault With Intent to Kill—Former Wife in Serious Condition Tells Authorities.

Harry Jackson, 23, colored is being placed against Jackson, according to authorities. At the request of authorities, who were afraid publicity would lessen the chances of capturing Jackson, the fact that Jackson was being searched for was not published locally Saturday. Saturday night at 8:30 o'clock Jackson walked into police headquarters after learning that police were looking for him, asked Assistant Chief of Police Mangan, what he was wanted for. He was locked up by Mangan, who notified the Sheriff, and Jackson was removed to the county jail immediately under the serious charge filed against him. Jackson was divorced from his wife in 1919, but she had lived in constant fear of him, and he was still jealous of her, police say. Mrs. Jackson has been employed as a domestic at the O. S. & S. O. Home. According to the story told to the police, on the evening of February 19, she was accompanied to her home by another man, and Jackson followed her. At the door he dragged her into the house, police say and struck and beat her, knocking her down, kicking and tramping on her. Still fearful of her husband, the woman did not tell even relatives of the assault, but attempted to continue her work the next day. She collapsed and was placed under the care of a physician but still refused to tell of the assault. After learning last week that she probably would die, she told her attending physician whose subsequent examination disclosed that she had two fractured ribs, one of which pierced the lung. Prosecuting Attorney J. Kenneth Williamson was notified and immediately swore out a warrant for Jackson's arrest.

RICKARD GOES ON TRIAL FOR ALLEGED CRIME

Sports Promoter Indicted on Four Counts on Girls' Complaints.

New York, March 20.—George L. (Tex) Rickard, internationally known sports promoter, went on trial here today charged in four indictments with criminal assault on two young girls and abduction of two others. The case was before Justice Isidor Wasservogel of the State Supreme Court. The promoter of the Dempsey-Carpenter fistic classic at Boyles Thirty Acres last July and, as manager of Madison Square Garden of many other championship boxing battles was first arrested on January 21, on complaint of 15-year-old Alice Ruck through the society for prevention of cruelty to children. He was released on $1,000 bail on a charge alleging criminal assault upon the girl. Arraigned before City Magistrate George W. Simpson on Feb. 11, he was held for the grand jury in $10,000 bail. Testimony was given by Alice Ruck and Anna Hess, 11. Indictments charged criminal assault on Alice Ruck and Sarah Schoenfeld, 15, were handed up to Justice Wasservogel by the grand jury on Feb. 18. A week later he was indicted twice more on charges of abduction of Anna Hess and Nellie Gasko, 14, and his bail was increased to $25,000. The sports promoter pleaded not guilty to all the indictments. A final effort of Rickard's counsel to prevent trial of the case failed when Justice Wasservogel on March 1 denied a motion of Rickard's attorneys for inspection of the minutes of the grand jury which indicted him. Most of the first day of the trial was expected to be taken up by selection of a jury. A special panel of 200 talesmen has been ordered.

POLICY OF MINERS IN COMING STRIKE WILL BE ARRANGED

The call will be issued from New York. Three members from each district, with the international officers make up the general policy committee and the convening of the committee at Indianapolis will retard the progress of the negotiations with the operators for new wage agreements.

A similar raid had been made earlier by armed Sinn Feiners upon the constabulary barracks at Pomeroy, county Tyrone. Telephone and telegraph lines on the border had been cut by news of fighting was brought into the interior by border resident who fled in fear of their lives. At some points along the Ulster border, shooting was almost continuous throughout the week end. The Ulster forces prepared to cope with raids over the frontier by Republicans.

U. S. Accused of Fostering Capitalistic Relations

Trotsky Declares America Seeks to "Re-establish Program That Brought About Imperialistic War," Gives His Reasons.

Moscow, March 19.—(via London, March 20.)—The accusation that the United States fosters a program for the re-establishment of capitalistic relations which brought about the imperialistic war was made here today by Leon Trotsky, commissar for war in the soviet government, in an exclusive interview with the International News Service. Trotsky said he thought that Russia would succeed in convincing the powers that understandings with Russia are possible only through acceptance of the soviet views. The soviet military leader began his statement by discussing the refusal of the United States to participate in the international economic conference at Genoa. He said: "It is my impression that the refusal and the reasons advanced for it increase the ambiguity which has characterized the American policy towards Russia. Secretary Hughes says that the economic rehabilitation of Russia is impossible until steps are taken to investigate who was responsible for the present economic plight. Every peasant and worker knows that the white armies and their entente supporters were responsible. Every one knows that the Czech-Slovaks and the forces under Admiral Kolchak operated under the guidance of France and the United States and brought about such awful consequences as now exist.

PLAY ROLES IN THREATENED MINE STRIKE

Unionized coal mines throughout the country will be closed and about 735,000 miners will quit work on April 1, unless the operators and union officials meet in the meantime and sign a new wage scale and working conditions agreement. Here are grouped the leaders of the operators, miners and the Government. The American Federation of Labor will back the miners if they strike. Samuel Gompers, president, has announced Secretary of Labor Davis is endeavoring to have the operators and union leaders "get together." The strike is certain, declares John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, unless the operators agree to new terms. President J. D. A. Morrow, of the National Coal Association, leader of the situation for the operators, denies that the mines have earned excessive profits.

Million New Homes Will Be Raised In U. S. In 1922

Department of Commerce Estimates That Construction Operations Will Approach Pre-War Level Before Close of the Present Year.

Washington, March 20.—One million new homes will be built in the United States during 1922, according to an estimate made today by the department of commerce, following the receipt of reports indicating that a building boom is under way and that construction operations will approach the pre war level before the close of the present year.

In twenty seven northeastern states, inhabited by two thirds of the total population of the country, contracts aggregating $75,000,000 were awarded in February for residential structures. While building activities vary between cities the present record far exceeds the amount of money spent on building during the two preceding years in this territory. Steady activity during the fall and winter months indicates that demands for new construction is of a steady healthy nature," the department announced today. "Measured in floor space, the contracts awarded during the past three months are well above the 1921 average and very close to the high years of 1919. With such a start, the year 1922 could easily rank ahead of any year since the beginning of the war."

ROOFING FIRM OF FRANKLIN, O. SWEEP BY FIRE

Middleton, O., March 20.—The Vulcanite Roofing Company, of Franklin, near here, valued at $3,000,000 is burning and there is little hope that any of the plant will be saved. The fire started early this morning and the plant is now more than half destroyed with the flames still raging. The Middleton fire department had dispatched its water pumper to the scene of the conflagration but the fire is not under control and bids fair to destroy the entire plant. The fire, the origin of which is unknown, started shortly after 5 a. m. in the Sturging department of the plant and quickly spread to other parts of the mill. The blaze was under control at 9 a. m. but nothing is left of the mill in which the fire originated except the walls. John Buchanan, of Franklin, an employee of the company, was seriously burned about the face and was rushed to the Middleton hospital where he is resting easily this morning, although in a serious condition. The burning of the plant will virtually throw 120 men out of employment.

Picture Unusual Uses of Goods in Advertising

"Rather than gild the lily," says Vanderhoof & Co., general advertising, Chicago. "The Canadian National Railways chose to whet the edge of an age-old craving, not through pillowed ease—but frontier ruggedness, not with Tuxedos—but trappers' togs. The appeal of the primal drives deep into the hearts of men."

And surely here's a deserving thought even in local advertising—show the infrequently employed uses for your goods—the unthought-of, reasons emphasizing quality—the uses that the article might be put to; picture them in your advertising interestingly and effectively, yet a trifle out of the ordinary. Results will just as surely be most gratifying.

He was asked to sing into the radio transmitter several times this week.

WAR IN FAR EAST MAY RESULT FROM PACIFIC TREATY BORAH THINKS

Senator Attacks Pact as Evidence That U. S. is Convinced at Aggressions In That Territory—Fight Renewed In Senate.

Washington, March 20.—A charge that the United States and Great Britain entered into a secret understanding during the armament conference for the express purpose of holding a whip hand over Japan with an Anglo-American fleet in the Pacific startled the senate today into a tempestuous debate on the four power and other conference treaties. The charge was attributed by Senator Borah, Republican of Idaho, to Paul D. Cravath, prominent New York lawyer who is one of counsel for the international banking house of J. P. Morgan and company. At those aggressions, that we are giving our moral influence and our moral prestige to the support of the two powers which both China and Russia have good reason to regard as their implacable and deadly enemies. What will be the result? War in the far east from which we will be unable to escape."

DAVIS ANNOUNCES HE WILL NOT RUN FOR OFFICE AGAIN

Columbus, March 20.—"Unequivocally false" and "the very opposite of the truth" are terms used here today by Gov. Davis in voicing a vigorous denial of the statement that the national administration, wishing him to retire, had exerted pressure in inducing Gov. Davis not to be a candidate for renomination this year. "Every influence of men closest to President Harding was exerted to induce me to run again for the governorship," said Gov. Davis today. Five reasons were given by the governor for his final decision not to seek the office for a second term. They are: 1—Because the reorganization code has proven successful and is in such shape that it can be operated by a succeeding administration. 2—Because another campaign would take him from official duties. 3—Because he believes that he can render the people of Ohio a greater service by remaining on the job and because he wants to complete complete campaign pledges. 4—Because he harbors no political ambitions. 5—Because of urgent family and business considerations.

Governor Davis' unprecedented step, of renouncing the honor of a second term as chief executive of Ohio leaves the field wide open for the next election. The secrecy which the governor had thrown about his final action left even his intimate friends in the dark and has caused the pot of politics to reach the boiling point of expectancy. Aspirants for the office will likely make their appearance in the near future. A list of possible seekers follows: Republicans: Harvey C. Smith, of Zanesville, present secretary of state. Carmi A. Thompson, of Cleeland, former secretary of state. Congressman Charles L. Knight, of Akron. Roscoe C. McCulloch, of Canton, former congressman. State Senator Arthur Day of Cleveland. R. R. Beethem, of Cadiz, speaker Ohio House of representatives. James A. White, of Columbus, superintendent Ohio Anti-Saloon League. Democrats: A. Vic Donohoe, of New Philadelphia, Democratic candidate for Governor two years ago. Hugh L. Nichols, of Cincinnati, former chief justice Ohio Supreme Court. George White, of Marietta, chairman Democratic National Committee during the last presidential campaign. E. J. Hopple, of Cleveland, former speaker Ohio House of Representatives. John L. Zimmerman of Springfield, lawyer. Martin L. Davey, of Kent former congressman. T. J. Duffey of Columbus and East Liverpool, with the state industrial commission.

These were the figures contained in the Cannes agreement. Under the Cannes terms Germany would turn over to the allies: Gold—720,000,000 gold marks. Merchandise, 1,450,000,000 gold marks worth. Total value 170,000,000 gold marks.

ADVERTISING GREAT FOE TO DEPRESSION IN BUSINESS LINES

By James O'Shaughnessy.

Advertising is a force for business, much the same as are many other effective forms of human effort. Effort of itself is not always sufficient, as we all know. Effort in business should be marked by intelligence, diligence and continuity.

To make the statement without explanation that advertising is a cure for business depression would invite the hasty resistance of many otherwise well informed.

It is true, none the less, that advertising, properly used can prevent business depression, and when a business depression arises it can lift business out of its depression.

Business falls into a depression because of a lessening of active desire for commodities. Many other things are talked of, and the governing fact becomes obscured.

Business is buying and selling. It is an effect not a cause, in this consideration.

It is estimated that a 12 per cent shrinkage in sales volume is sufficient to make the difference between prosperity and panic. This figure may not be exact, perhaps, 10 per cent is nearer the correct figure.

A small falling off in buying therefore, may be interpreted fairly as a depressed condition in business. The effort in selling may be slowed as much as 10 per cent without being noticed until the sales figures reveal the result.

If the sales are good to-day, it is easy to think the sales will be good to-morrow, irrespective. Nearly every business man thinks in that comfortable way.

As a matter of fact business, as we know it, is normal when in high gear. That is, when buyers are buying more than they have to have.

The wants of the consumers or their desire to buy cannot lessen without lessening business volume.

Advertising makes or subdivides, and multiplies the number of wants, and thus produce business growth. The elements in business growth are the same, whether from a low level to normal or from normal to a higher level.

Advertising has made the East, for instance, want the Pacific coast fruits. The East could have continued to be fed well and healthily and content with Pacific Coast fruits. If the advertising of these fruits were withdrawn and the East no longer were urged to buy them, desire for them would pass and several hundred million dollars annually would slip over to the depression side of the ledger.

Advertising is a method for multiplying the sales effort of the merchant and manufacturer and also of the producers from the soil.

When business is dull, additional desire to make sales prompts itself to the mind of even the dullest seller. By using advertising properly the merchant multiplies his sales effort.

Advertising means that the merchant can talk to thousands every day. The more thousands to whom he offers his goods, the more sales he makes, and the more business is done.

There is, therefore, no mystery about a business depression. It is a time when fewer dollars worth of goods are sold each day in the average store.

If more buyers went into the store more goods would be sold. The law of averages insures that. A simple remedy for drawing more persons into the store is to invite and urge more to come into the store.

To stop advertising or to reduce the amount of advertising is to stop asking the public to come and buy or to ask fewer buyers to buy or to ask them less persistently to buy. Everybody needs to be urged to do anything.

When they are urged to buy more, that in turn is an urge to increase buying power.

Advertising never is an expense. It is either a form of waste or an economy. If done intelligently it is the safest investment known to business. It is a waste only at the hands of the utterly incompetent.

When business is dull advertising should begin, or if advertising is going on it should be increased. There is no surer remedy for business depression than advertising, because it is properly within the economies of business and it is a remedy available to every business man.

When business men will give less brooding thought to cryptic phrases of financial leaders and use their common sense more aggressively, business depression will be short lived.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

SISTERS OF CHARITY ENDORSE FATHER JOHN'S MEDICINE

At the Children's Home in Newburyport, Mass., there are an average of sixty children under the loving care of the Sisters of Charity.

In a recent signed statement the Sister in charge said: "We cheerfully endorse Father John's Medicine because in our Home it has become indispensable. We use it, not only for coughs and colds but also as a builder. We tell our friends that we would not be without it. We have used it with great success and find it to have no equal as a builder. (Signed) The Home for Destitute Children, Sisters of Charity, Newburyport, Mass."

In a great many institutions of a similar character throughout the country, Father John's Medicine is what the nurses in charge depend upon to keep the children well and strong. They know that it is entirely safe because it is free from alcohol and dangerous drugs.

H. & A. KANSAS CITY PLANT ROBBED OF PART OF ITS PAYROLL

The Hoover & Allison Co., suffered a loss of $2,100 Saturday morning, when bandits locked three employees in the vault of the plant at North Kansas City and escaped with that amount in cash, according to dispatches received here.

A clerk and stenographer, office employees and a freight handler who happened to be in the office at the time, were imprisoned in the large book vault, by the bandits. The $2,100 was only part of the payroll, it is said, part of the money having been distributed.

Elwood Swan, former Xenian, who is superintendent of the North Kansas City mill, released the three people from the vault, after they had been confined in the repository for about eight minutes. There were many people working in the factory adjoining the office at the time of the daring robbery, it is said, but no trace of the bandits has yet been discovered.

WE'LL BE GOOD FRIENDS, BUT WANT NO "ENTANGELING ALLIANCES."

The American government, while the Republican party is in power, will not be drawn into the tangled web of European politics. The peace and prosperity of the American people will not be sacrificed in the vain hope that through American participation in European intrigue and conflict, Europe may escape the consequences of policies inevitably ending in economic disaster and war. Powerless to deal with the causes of European complications, we will not commit the folly of attempting to shield European peoples from the consequences of still cherished divisions, hatreds, rivalries and antagonisms deep rooted in the soil of the Old World.

The American people very clearly indicated, in the election of 1920, that they rejected utterly the program of those who favored the abandonment of the traditional policy of non-participation in European politics. The American republic, uniting many states in one, is organized for peace. Europe, with its multiplied states, inspired by age-old feuds, hatreds and prejudices, is organized for war. So long as Europe continues to be a crazy quilt of nationalities the normal state of Europe will be war; of economic war culminating periodically in military and naval conflicts. Those who would make the peace and prosperity of this country dependent upon the maintenance of peace and prosperity on the other side of the Atlantic are either deluded theorists or agents of alienism, willing to injure or destroy this nation in order that the European purposes they serve may be furthered.

WHY WE ARE NOT GOING TO GENOA.

"The note conveying the declination of the United States government to participate in the Genoa conference is notable for clearness, force and comprehensiveness packed in small space. This is characteristic of Mr. Hughes' official utterances. His state papers have already placed him in the foremost rank of international statesmen. It is a pleasure to Americans when their spokesman so correctly interprets and so forcibly delivers the opinion of this nation. The frankness and finality of the note will make for progress in Europe and for better understanding, although certain European statesmen are, of course, badly disappointed by the failure to draw the United States into their plans. The Secretary of State puts his finger upon the vitally defective spot in the Genoa scheme. It is not an economic conference at all, but a political conference that is planned. The essence of the plan is the exploitation of Russia by outsiders, not for the benefit of the Russian people, but for outsiders. In order to accomplish this purpose it is proposed to deal with the communists and to recognize the soviet as the government of Russia."

THE TELEPHONE GIRL.

Immediately after the roof of the Knickerbocker Theater in Washington, D. C., caved in under its weight of snow, a man who was standing outside of the building went into a telephone booth and told "Central" what had happened. The telephone girl did the rest.

This girl realized the situation, communicated the information to other members of the office force, and within ten minutes seventy-two physicians residing in the Columbia Exchange district, where was located the theater, were told of the disaster; every hospital and first aid agency in the city was notified, a report was made to the War Department and to the municipal government offices, and the work of rescue and of relief was almost instant.

In France the telephone girl proved her courage and resourcefulness in war. She had proved it long before under other conditions of emergency and of peril. In floods, in famine, in fire and in riots the telephone girl has showed the stuff that is in her.

We fear that we do not always remember these things in our daily communications with Central. Sometimes, however, when we do think of them we are sorry that we have blamed the telephone girl for annoying things beyond her control, such as the fact that the telephone of a friend is busy when we want to talk to him, and that perchance we are given the wrong number when the fault lay not with the telephone girl's keenly attuned ear but with our own mumbling manner of speech. We hope by this inadequate tribute that we have made amends for a somewhat frequent use of hasty but really unmeant words.—Chicago Evening Post.

WOULD RATHER WASH DISHES THAN ARGUE POLITICS.

The two women members of the city council of Three Oaks, Mich., have resigned, declaring they would "rather wash dishes than argue over a paving contract," and that "politics takes too much of a woman's time from her duties as a housewife." The women's decision comes after a year of service in the council and was not made suddenly.

"We didn't find politics what we thought it would be," Mrs. Maude Arnold, one of the two, confided. "We found ourselves at everybody's beck and call, unable to satisfy anybody and always the object of much unjust criticism. It's much nicer just to stay at home, keep the dishes washed and the house tidied and prepare the meals, without having to mind anybody's else's business."

Women in general will find out in time what a vast number of men already know and what these two women have discovered, that politics is not what those outside of it think it to be, and especially that office-holding is far different from the dreams about it. No matter how conscientious a public officer, he is bound to be severely criticized on all sides by those who misunderstand his motives or by those who understand them too well.

The world's production of coal for 1921 was 1,000,000,000 metric tons, or 200,000,000 tons less than the amount produced in 1920. Germany and France were the only two nations showing an increased coal production for 1921.

No metal or alloy has been found which can be substituted for lead in pipes for carrying water or drainage. It never deteriorates or decays. The gutter spouts at Windsor Castle, England, were installed in 1589 and are still in perfect condition.

Farmers in Pennsylvania, who use their passenger automobiles to haul produce to market regularly, must pay $5 additional this year for their license. When a car, no matter if it is equipped with the passenger seats, is used to haul produce, it is classed as a commercial vehicle.

DRIVING ONE? PRIVATE RIG TO THE PICNIC HAS SOME SLIGHT DISADVANTAGES.

1902--Twenty Years Ago--1922

A petition over 15 feet in length and containing 1,000 names has been presented to the legislators at Columbus by Judge Dean of this city, praying for the separation of Greene county from the Sixth District and its addition to the Third.

Mr. R. D. Adair is today announced as a candidate for member of the Xenia Board of Education. Mr. Adair has made a most efficient member of the Board and will not likely have any opposition.

The survey of part of the route between Xenia and Port William will begin in a few days and will be completed as rapidly as possible. It is rumored that the Eastern parties who will finance the Springfield and Washington Traction line, will join the Cleveland parties who will build the Xenia and Wilmington and unite in one system the line projecting from Springfield through Cedarville and Jamestown to Washington, C. H. and from Xenia through New Jasper to Port William to Wilmington.

Letters to The Editor

Editor Gazette and Republican:

The public institutions which enrich our individual and community life, deserve our jealous care and active support. Our churches, schools, colleges, community centers, Good roads, civic and welfare organizations are among those which should actively interest every citizen and I believe they do.

For years I have watched the coming and going of hundreds of boys and girls and adults carrying books from the shelves of our Carnegie Library; the rich, the poor, the young and the old have equally enjoyed this privilege and benefited from the wisdom of thousands of books, which they could not otherwise have read. The Carnegie Library is a great and living county cultural center. We should all help it to grow and make it able to send out the kind and number of books desired by those who reside at a distance in the county as well as those who can come personally to it. The Board of County Commissioners has been liberal in its support, to the full limit of the law and it deserves and has received the grateful thanks of the Library patrons. But the Library Board needs more support than the limit of the Commissioners can give. Good books cost now twice as much as formerly and a number of copies of the same books are often needed for circulation both here and at other points in the county for this purpose the Library Association is asking for financial help. Let us all help it by purchasing tickets to the series of entertainments to be given remembering that a good Library, well shelved with good books is a priceless influence in the growing life of the county.

IN CRITICAL CONDITION AFTER REMOVAL OF EYE

Mrs. Isaac F. Barger, of southern Fayette County, grandmother of Mrs. Paul Owens, of this city, is in a critical condition at the private hospital of Dr. Thompson, eye specialist of Cincinnati, as the result of an operation, last week, for the removal of her left eye, due to hardening of the eyeball. The other eye had been removed over three years ago.

Mrs. Barger who is past 75 years of age, a few months ago underwent an operation for the removal of a cataract on her left eye. This improved her sight for a time but hardening of the eyeball developed and the pain became so intense that an operation was necessary.

A REST STRAP

A great many people have not sprained ankles but strained ankles and do not know it. Some people go for years wondering why their feet and ankles tire out so easily, depriving themselves of such pleasures as skating, tennis playing or tramping, because of fatigue that comes foot immediately in front of the heel. Bring it up over the instep, around the outer part of the ankle, and then bind it around the ankle as much as its length permits. This will draw the foot back into proper position and it will not be in the least uncomfortable. It will afford the foot and ankle ample rest and support and should be kept on for about a week.

Stringy Looks—Scalp treatment with the electric vibrator is much better than most of the scalp massage, but that is no argument against massaging the scalp, for this work can even excel that of the vibrator. I know of one hair specialist who insists on finger massage as she feels there is something in the finger magnetism of the operator, which stimulates circulation. She also massages all the muscles of the back, shoulders and neck leading up into the scalp before she massages the scalp itself.

Her work is exceptional and would not be attempted by many since it means so much time. With the vibrator, however, a very good treatment can be assured, even in the hands of an inexperienced person. If you have one use it, but if you have not do not neglect the massage and with a scalp in the condition that yours is in, treat it everyday by either method.

CONGREGATION SPLIT OVER ACTIVITIES OF PASTOR

Cincinnati, March 20.—Members of St. Paul's Evangelical Protestant church, Alexandria, Ky., are engaged in a bitter "family" quarrel over the alleged activities of their pastor the Rev. Paul B. Roedinger, who, it has been charged, has used "hot language" and has failed to pay bills after money for them was turned over to him. Part of the congregation believes the charges are true and the other part believes they are not—the combination causing considerable excitement in that erstwhile serene village. At a meeting last night the congregation decided to postpone action on the charges until April 2.

on so quickly—when by a very simple treatment they might entirely overcome this weakness. This treatment is nothing more than binding the foot and ankle with what is known as a rest strap. This consists of a piece of court plaster about three or four inches wide and 18 inches to three feet long. When the ankle has been strained or weakened, usually the result of a fall, it is apt to bend so the weight of the body, instead of being distributed equally over the foot, comes mostly on the big toe point, and the inner part of the heel. If you step on the floor with a wet foot you can tell this by the damp impression the foot makes. Normally the toes, the ball of the foot, the heel and the outer line of the foot show. But if the arch has fallen or the ankle is weak, almost the whole sole of the foot will rest upon the floor and make its impression. To correct this, take a strap of adhesive plaster, put it under the

IN JAIL AND OUT.

It doesn't fill my heart with joy to see a gent in jail; I'm sorry for the erring boy who's left the narrow trail. Some day I hope no man will dwell where warders' keys are clinked, some day I hope the prison cell will be a thing extinct. But since we have our costly jails, if they become a jest our justice system sags and fails and law goes galley west. Suspended sentences obtain, amusing sinful gents, paroles make punishment look vain, as vain as twenty cents. No sooner do we send a man to languish in the pen, than able lawyers work some plan, and get him out again. Each day the killers leave their dead, according to the dope, and of a hundred slayers red perhaps one draws a rope. We turn the vicious hoodlums loose with gentle reprimands, and then we wonder why the deuce the crime wave still expands. We are too merciful, I fear, and make our law a freak; we sentence sinners to a year, and free them in a week. And then they take their guns and knives, and, filled with bootleg gin, they sacrifice some valued lives, and swell the wave of sin. And while I often-times bewail the harm that prisons do, I'd like to see such men in jail, the whole besotted crew.

Today's Talk

by George Matthew Adams

BREVITY

The match that flickers for just a moment, the minute that is so soon ticked off, the candle that trembles in the waves of darkness for but a little while, the hour that hardly comes before it is gone—how brief each is!

The morning breaking through sunbeams and shadows, promising, greeting, and giving every evidence of a long stay—how quickly it rolls to its couch through soft lights, away from the closing eyes of a long stay—how quickly it rolls to its couch through soft lights, away from the closing eyes of a long stay.

We awake—only to sleep again. Days are but the breathings of Eternity.

Today the tiny handful of baby in pink or blue wrappings of exquisite softness—tomorrow the man of affairs shouldering his tasks among men.

Brevity—all is brevity! 'Tis the wink of an eye, the waft of a breath," said William Knox.

We journey only to return again and to sit for but a few hours revealing the joys and beauties of our past.

Nothing stands still. Movement and change is everywhere—pierced by brevity.

Leslie Stephen, in an appreciation of the writings and character of Carlyle, gives us these interesting lines: "History is like the short space lighted up by a flickering taper in the midst of infinite glooms and mysteries, and its greatest events brief scenes in a vast drama of conflicting forces, where the actors are passing in rapid success—rising from and vanishing into the all-embracing darkness."

But there is nothing in brevity to depress one—much less to slow one's steps toward life's best achievements.

There is wonderful inspiration in the very thought of brevity—to do our best and most, while yet there is time!

ASKS THAT CONGRESS APPROPRIATE SUM FOR NATION'S ROADS

Columbus, Ohio, March 20.—The Ohio Good Roads Federation at a meeting here recommended that congress appropriate $75,000,000 annually for the fiscal years 1923, 1924 and 1925 for aid to states in road building.

The resident and secretary of the Good Roads Federation were authorized to go to Washington and appear before the roads committees of the senate and house, in behalf of this recommendation.

The Federation discussed plans for a more extended road research in Ohio. The Federation proposes to collect and disseminate information upon which highways may be built and maintained economically, yielding the greatest return as a public investment. Secretary W. A. Alsford declared that the state could save hundreds of thousands of dollars if experiments and research were carried on systematically in the state relative to the problems of road construction and maintenance.

Combine lace with navy blue serge? I can imagine the surprise of the uninitiated at the mere suggestion, yet that is exactly what is happening to the newest fashion in woman's most dependable friend, the navy blue one-piece. However, the idea is not so impractical as it sounds.

Black lace in a coarse woolen weave is used, and the dress in the sketch illustrates one of the clever ways in which the French dressmakers have introduced this novel combination. The effect is original and immensely attractive, and offers an opportunity for individuality to the woman who likes to look "different" and is willing to adventure.

For the more conservative, pleated crepe de chine in the same color as the dress may be substituted for the lace.

As has been the custom in past years a mythical Greene County All Star Team made up of the cream of the participating teams in the county tournament has been selected. However this year the writer has gone a little further and selected a team on the basis of the entire season's play instead of a single day at the tournament. This was made possible by viewing the various teams, both boys and girls in at least two games, and by reviewing the records of other games.

Ferguson gets the first call and is also named as captain because of his finished style which makes him a strong factor on both offense and defense. Gegner while weak on defense is no doubt the best shot in the county and also a good floor man.

Boxwell gets the call at center, even though out of his regular position. A clever dribbler, good shot and a bulwark on defense he makes an ideal pivot man.

St. John gets a guard berth on strength of his ability to watch his man, floorwork and a deadly eye on the basket. Durnbaugh, stationed at the other guard, is the most versatile player on the team. While playing forward he really covers the guard position and can also put up a strong game at center.

The above team was picked upon their general all around ability and no one player named because of accuracy of shooting or closeness of guarding. It is believed that this team would be hard to beat as any player can shoot either long or short shots, all are expert dribblers, good passers, fast on their feet and can instantly change from an offensive to defensive team without losing any power.

On the girls' team McMillan stood far above the rest and is named captain. The other forward berth is a puzzle but after due consideration is given to Ritenour because of her peculiar ability to elude opposing guards and a good eye for the basket.

Wilson is given the jumping position as she had no trouble in getting the tip-off and is a good floor player. Cyphers stands out alone among the
